The Homeless Count results released earlier today by Los Angeles Homeless Services Authority (LAHSA) show the first drop in the total number of homeless individuals in almost four years. This is good news... AND, it is just the beginning of the work at hand.

Register for tomorrow's interactive presentation from 12 to 1 p.m. PST that will give you special insight into how the plan to end homelessness works to:

- Prevent individuals from falling into homelessness in the first place;
- Coordinate and connect people to the services they need the most;

- Create both short-term and supportive housing solutions, and identify ways you can help support our forward momentum.

This webinar is created by United Way of Greater Los Angeles' EVERYONE IN campaign.

United Way of Greater Los Angeles' EVERYONE IN campaign was launched in March of this year to power the work of ending homelessness through engaging communities across this county to be a part of the solution. To give a greater sense of what is behind the numbers and what is working in the fight against homelessness, join us for this timely webinar on the Homeless Count tomorrow from 12 to 1 p.m. PST.
